A photograph of a child's playroom. The room features a large wooden cabinet with multiple compartments. The top section has light-colored doors with black handles. Below, there are teal and light green doors, some with circular cutouts. Toys, including a dollhouse and blocks, are on a shelf. A blue play mat is visible in the foreground.

A photograph of a wooden structure, possibly a shelter or entrance, featuring a slatted screen and a warm, glowing light fixture mounted on the roof. The structure is built with light-colored wood and is situated on a gravel surface. In the background, a white building with a red roof and a green fence are visible.
